

Parent carer newsletter Summer term 2 2025

And just like that Summer and the final half term is here.

Lots of little adjustments and changes to routines are continuing to help the transition for those going to school and for those who will continue with us in September when they 'step up'.

This half terms learning theme is 'People who help us' expect lots of uniforms to dress up in and talk of different jobs that people do. Do you have a role or job that helps people and would be willing to come in and 'play' the role with the children or can you send us a photo of you at work or helping people ?

Arrival – it's been to see you all out having a run around before coming in in the morning. Don't forget your brollys and coat for the rainy days.

In terms of clothing we do ask that you dress for mess. I'm sure there are some days when you think we may have sent them up a chimney! Please know that we do not judge if your child comes in in clothing with paint stains – in fact we would rather that ! Dress for mess image.

Lost Property

Please do name everything – we have a few duplicates of lunch boxes, coats and shoes. Some have gone home with the wrong child.

Please also restrict the number of special items your child may want to bring in with them. We know that items from home are an important link for them but if they return home with a missing item this can cause distress – we regularly have items that stay for a sleepover !

Welfare.

Lunch box contents._Nuts - please check your chocolate spread jars to see if these contain nuts as these are we are a nut free zone.

Grapes – please cut these length ways as these a significant choking hazard in under 5's. Whilst we never want to have to provide choking first aid we do know how to. One thing that is currently recommended of us to have is a LifeVac which we are very kindly purchasing in partnership with School from the funds we've received from the Easter Egg trail.
